DRESSING FOR CHURCH.

Has anybody heard the bells?
You have!—dear me; I know full well
I'll never dress in time—
For mercy's sake, come help me, Luce,
I'll make my toilet very spruce,
The silk is quite sublime!

Here, lace this gaiter for me—do;
"A hole!" you say? plague take the shoe,
Please, Luce, try and hide it;
Just think it's Sunday, and my soul!
I cannot wear it with a hole!
The men will surely spy it.

"They're always peeping at our feet,
(Though to be sure they needn't peep,
The way we hold our dress!)
I'll disappoint them, though to-day,
"And cross myself" pray did you say?
Don't laugh at my distresses!"

Now, Lucy, pray feel my waterfall,
Do you think it large? ain't it too small?
What bother these things give!
My rats and mice, do they sit straight?
Please hurry, Luce, I know I'm late;
"There's Willie!" as I live.

How splendidly this silk will rustle
Please hand my "self-adjusting bustle,"
My corset and my hoop,)
There, now, I'll take five skirts or six;
Do hurry Luce, and help me fix,
You know I cannot stoop!

"How shall I say my prayers to-day?"
As if the girls go to church to pray!
How can you be so foolish?
Here damp this ribbon in cologne;
"What for?" to paint you silly one!
Now, Lucie, don't be mulcish.

Now, then, my hat—for he abhors
This thing—it's big as all out doors;
The frightful sugar scoop!
Thank Heaven, my cloak is handsome, too;
It cost enough to be, I know—
(Straighten this horrid hoop.)

My handkerchief and gloves you'll find
Just in the drawer; Lucy are you blind?
(Does my dress trail?)
It's all the fashion now, you know,
Pray do the paint and powder show
Through my lace veil.

Thank you, my dear, believe I am dressed,
The saints be praised! the day of rest
Comes only one in seven;
For if on all the other six
This trouble I should have to fix,
I'd never get to Heaven.

VENTILATION.—The great importance of ventilation in our sitting and sleeping rooms, in our schools and public halls, is not sufficiently appreciated. It was well set forth in a recent lecture by a Cleveland professor. It is startling to learn the amount of carbonic acid emitted from the lungs of one person, or from a single gas burner; enough to poison the whole atmosphere of a good sized room in a very brief period of time. How many persons think that winter temperature demands the exclusion of fresh air to make their apartments more warm and comfortable, when the fact, that in the cold season, we consume more oxygen and consequently inhale a greater quantity of the poisonous carbonic acid gas, should lead to a directly opposite course. A bed room in winter requires more ventilation than in summer, and the non-observance of this fact, will readily account for the awful diseases to which frail humanity is subject. We wonder if many of our readers are aware of the poisonous exhalations incident to a congregation of their "fellow-citizens," in ball rooms, churches and lecture halls. If they have not fully considered the vast importance of thorough ventilation, let them take these undeniable facts home to their serious thoughts. A person in health has eighteen breathings per minute, and thirty-five hogsheads of air pass through the lungs in twenty-four hours. Of this, from three to five per cent. or about two and a half hogsheads, is exhaled as carbonic acid gas, and thus one person would render two or three hogsheads of air unfit for breathing again. Let every person anxious for the preservation of his health take care that the windows of the dormitories are dropped a little, even during the winter nights. There is far less danger of taking cold than there is of inhaling the noxious atmosphere, which saps the health, undermines the constitution and embitters life with suffering and disease which might have been avoided.

UNIVERSAL DISSATISFACTION.—How often do we see persons who wish to be taken for what they are not. The boy apes the man with cane and cigar; the man affects the ways of boyhood. The sailor envies the landsman's lot; the landsman, for pleasure, goes to sea. The business man who must travel from town to town, and from country to country, dreams of the day when he will be able to "settle down;" the man of sedentary occupation grieves over the thought that he has to vegetate like a cabbage in one spot, and sighs for the time when he may travel. The town-bred youth hails with joy the morning in which he can breathe pure air and ramble among green fields; the country lad is all wonder and admiration when he first sees the rows of town gas lamps tapering away in perspective like beads of gold; and he is excited by the blaze of gas which pours from the windows on the road. Your fine musician would like to be a great painter, your wit a dignified philosopher, your philosopher a wit, able to set the table in a roar. Even an oyster would wish to put forth fins and have a fine, flexible tail, and sail abroad to see the world; while the traveled fish looks with an eye of envy upon the oyster as one who lives without work—a gsh of independent means, who has got a fixed position and a good, strong house of its own.

☞We are often more cruelly robbed by those who steal into our hearts than by those who break into our houses.

Letter from Kansas City, Missouri.

The following letter is from Mr. George W. Householder to our townsman, 'Squire Snare:

KANSAS CITY, MO., Jan. 21, 1868.

FRIEND SNARE:—I am still in Kansas city, and have finally concluded "to fight it out on this line" making it my future home. I have given up the Colorado idea, assured of the fact, that Kansas City is destined at no distant day, to become the Metropolis of the Missouri Valley. We have been here over seven months, and in that time, I have satisfied myself of the city and her surroundings—during that period I have traveled over seven hundred miles around her, anxious to learn for myself, the true character of the country upon which she had to depend for her trade; because, I hold that in order to build up a great city anywhere, it is of primary importance, in the first place, to have a natural position and some great thoroughfare; a centre of railroad connection—and a country of great natural resources, and of exceeding fertility to back her—all these has Kansas City in a pre eminent degree, more probably than any other city in in the Union, except perhaps New York and Chicago. Another year will bring into her lap the unbroken connection of seven railroads, all converging to a common centre, and in the very centre of our city. The completion of the great Railroad and wagon bridge across the Missouri, (the first undertaking of the kind across that treacherous stream) will be hailed as an omen of great joy within less than that period. It would astonish you, were you here, to see the many improvements that have been made during the past six months. Buildings that would well grace Market St., Philadelphia, or Lake St., Chicago, have been built in short time, and many others of like proportions are now under contract. The great cry is, the want of business houses—and rents for rooms are running high—single rooms frequently command as much as $2000 per year. We are constantly receiving accessions from St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, St. Joseph and Leavenworth—a striking fact that Kansas City is in the ascendancy, and that the eyes of business men everywhere are turned in this direction. Nor is there any wonder when we examine her situation closely; all that is necessary for the unprotected eye to do, in order to solve the problem, will be to take up the map of the Union, and find Kansas City, situated at the confluence of the Kaw River into the Missouri, and just at that point where the latter makes her great bend to the east, after coursing her way south for over 3000 miles; a stream too, which is navigable nearly to her source, and which is capable during the greater part of the year, of bearing upon her bosom the trade and traffic of the country. The rock-bound shores of the Missouri on the Southern side, at this point, seems to be destined by nature for the building up of a great city; and although fate seemed to be against her, during the prevalence of the rebellion, when she was held simply as a military post, and her rival, Leavenworth had all the sway, growing rich out of the war, she is now notwithstanding all these adverse circumstances surmounting all opposition, and aggregating to herself the trade of all that immense country lying south and southeast of her. Several reasons combine, no doubt, as the inducement for capitalists to turn their attention in this direction, and the greatest of which is probably the fact, that this is one of the very few sites where the Missouri river can be successfully bridged—hence her railroads; and secondly, the abundance of her timber, stone and clay, making it comparatively easy to erect her bridges, construct railroads and machine shops, and build up her city; and lastly but not least, the extreme fertility of the soil surrounding her several hundred miles, situated in a mild climate, within but thirty miles of the geographical centre of the United States, and rapidly settling up with an industrious and enterprising population, mostly of eastern and northern origin. The political sentiment of our city and country is fast becoming radical. The old Missouri element is giving way to eastern emigration who will soon reconstruct this beautiful country, politically, socially and morally—and change her in a few years, into a perfect paradise. Nor are we deficient in churches and schools, as many in the east may suppose. No less than sixteen Churches grace our prosperous hills, whose pulpits are ably filled by eloquent and enterprising ministers, drawing good audiences. The Common Schools are yet in their infancy, but have progressed astonishingly since their commencement. The city is now building five large and commodious brick houses for that purpose. Four of which are for Primary Schools, and one for a Central High School. When these are completed there will be but few cities of equal size, better prepared to educate her youth than Kansas City. It is the intelligence of her people that has induced this movement in the right direction, whose early training in the east and north has not been forgotten, and who are determined that their offspring shall not be neglected in that important particular.

GEORGE W. HOUSEHOLDER.

LAST DYING WORDS.—A Boston religious paper tells this story:

An old lady who was about to breathe her last, received a call from an acquaintance ignorant of the mortal illness. The answer sent down from the chamber of the departing sufferer was memorably unique: "Madam ——, sends her compliments to Madam ——, but begs to be excused, as she is engaged in dying."

Trained Statesmanship.

[From the Harrisburg State Guard, Republican.]

We question, very much, whether we shall ever have a school for statesmen as long as political contests for place are characterized by the unfairness with which all elections in the United States are now conducted. It is a fact that the country is suffering more from the effects of defective legislation by the States and Congress than any other influence now at work to impede its progress. Why is this the fact? We do not assert that this influence is entirely the result of dishonesty, of deliberate design on the part of the majorities to do wrong. It arises, in most cases, out of the fact that we have so few statesmen in legislative positions, while such a horde of demagogues fill places which were created for the first talent. There are no gradations to fit a man for public duty, if we except that of the judiciary; men being compelled to pass through a certain routine of study and practice before they can reach the bench. Now why should not men be trained as well for legislative and official executive duty? If it is proper to educate a man to expound the law, why should not the law maker be educated for that duty? If a judge on the bench requires certain fitting instructions, why should not executive officers also be trained and educated to their calling? The time is coming when it will be of the utmost importance to answer this question. At present our greatest ills are due to the fact that we have so few statesmen filling places of public trust and honor, and so many demagogues wielding legislative and executive power, which they have neither the acquired nor the natural ability properly to exorcise. In every election district in every State the best and ablest men are invariably set aside for the reason that they are either unwilling or unable to cope with the corruption which heaves bad men into prominence. The wise and the good, the student who is familiar with the history of the country, the economist who understands the wants of a community, the business man who directs and enriches industry, the publicist acquainted with the policies best calculated to advance the general good, are seldom heard, seldom gain prominence, and are shoved to one side, to make room for bloated political tricksters, demagogues, and (we blush to write the word) thieves in broadcloth, whose only object in struggling for power is to rob the Government they are solemnly sworn to uphold in honor and advance to prosperity. Of course, there are what may be truly called great men, who engage in these frauds, but the mass of corruption in our Government has sprung from the fact that the people have been too indifferent in putting men in places for whose duties they have no qualification, and whose trusts are always abused in their hands. The routine of legislative and executive duty has become corrupt because so many weak and incompotent men are entrusted with such authority, whom the designing and the rich, not in power, purchase and abuse to the advancement of their money-making interests. Under present usages, legislative position is too often sought not as tests of high ability, nor where great honors are to be gained, but solely and only where money can be made. Men like these are never troubled about fitting themselves for the duties of their station. They never stop to think that there are facts to be studied, interests to be examined, economy to be enforced, just laws to be enacted and the general welfare to be protected.—These are secondary objects with nine out of every ten public men who enter public life impressed with the idea of self-aggrandizement, and who are only considered successful when they leave it, if they have made a collosal fortune.

Our country is now old enough to demand the services of trained and educated statesmen. Our interests, extent of territory, national influence in the world, power of population and immensity of material wealth, all demand the supervision, guidance, defence, and thought of the wise, the educated and the patriotic. We have had a surfeit of money-makers in official power. Fortune hunters can never become statesmen. Albert Gallatin made it a study to remain poor that he might preserve his reputation as a statesman pure, while he labored for the general welfare. We do not expect to see another Gallatin; but we expect soon to see the day when the people will accept only the services of men of apparent ability in public station. Statesmen will be educated and trained as are great mechanics, lawyers and doctors. Mere party discipline will not always be strong enough to uplift ignorance and push into or purchase, places for debauched and dishonest demagogues.

THE FIRST TWENTY YEARS.—Live as long as you may, the first twenty years form the greater part of your life. They appear so when you look back to them, and they take up more room in our memory than all the years that succeed them. If this be so how important that they should be passed in planting good principles, cultivating good tastes, strengthening good habits, fleeing all those pleasures which lay up bitterness and sorrow for time to come. Take good care of the first twenty years of your life, and you may hope that the last twenty years will take good care of you.

☞Why was the giant Goliah very much astonished when David hit him with a stone? Such a thing never entered his head before.

☞Circumstances alter cases.

BOYS AND GIRLS.—A boy romps and laughs, plays at athletic games, whips tops, runs races, climbs trees, leaps and jumps, and exercises all his muscles in turn. He lolls in his chair, and assumes any attitude he pleases at his desk. He has from his game a sufficient appetite to eat heartily, and out of school hours he feels no restraint.—The girl, on the contrary, never romps, runs races, whips tops, &c. She only sits upright and walks, thus developing, and sometimes all but destroying only one set of muscles. She cannot shake off for a moment the feeling of constraint, and she naturally loses appetite, becomes languid, faint and low. The boy comes into rude contact with those above, below, and around him. He has to endure "chaffing" to learn to "hold his own," to fight if need be. Even in his games his mind has to be active. He has to think about the most judicious way of fielding when Tom is at the wickets, or for looking out when Dick kicks the football. This developes his intellect, and teaches him his place in his own world. The girl, on the contrary, is so hedged in with protection that she has no power of her own, and she cannot learn life, for the book is kept closed to her. Let us at this moment pause awhile, for memory recalls to our mind the name and nature of many a blooming woman whom we have admired for their loveliness, their good sense, their genuine worth, and speaking professionally, for their thorough healthfulness. How have they been brought up?—Why almost invariably in the country, living with their brothers, and sharing their sports in a feminine way—riding or walking, irrespective of dirty lanes; boating, playing bowls or croquet, swinging, lolling under the green tree, eating as much as they liked, and only under restraint during the period when they were with Miss Tutuer or Professor Guitarro. They have had perhaps, a single year at a finishing school to enable them to break off naturally a few objectionable habits, and to part with a few undesirable acquaintances and to pass with ease from the girl to the woman. When such a one leaves school she does not think of it as a place of punishment to be avoided. She has most probably acquired a fondness for her music or painting, or found sufficient interest in German or Italian to continue its study. Her mind, with its healthy tone unspoiled by incessant worry of school, seeks occupation rather than inglorious repose. To such a one brothers will tell their little adventures, and whether she have beauty of face or elegance of form, or be in reality somewhat plain, she is voted a "brick," and as such takes an honored place in the domestic architecture. The conclusion to be drawn from the foregoing remarks is inevitable, viz: That if we wish to preserve the health of our daughters we must not overwork them. The horseman does not put a filly to labor at a period when he would allow her brother of the same age to be idle in the field.

THE BLIND.—We acknowledge the receipt of the thirty-fifth annual report of the Managers of the "Pennsylvania Institute for the Instruction of the Blind." There are now in the school one hundred and eighty-three blind persons Thirty-two of these support themselves wholly or in part, as assistant teachers, or in the work department, five are full paying pupils, eleven in part, and eight are day scholars. By a series of carefully arranged figures the Principal, Wm. Chapin, Esq, shows that there are now 13,259 white blind, and 15,635 total blind persons in the United States. Of this number there are 1,590 in Pennsylvania, 278 in New Jersey, and 56 in Delaware, the three States contributing to the support of the Institution. Great difficulty is experienced in providing employment for the blind after they have been instructed and graduated from the College. To obviate this, the report recommends the establishment by philanthropists of a manufactory where the blind may be employed at fair wages. Such an establishment could not be made self-supporting but it would contribute largely towards ameliorating the condition of those doomed in this world to perpetual darkness. The system of education adopted by the School embraces not only mental culture but practical instruction in mechanics and general handiwork. The factory attached to the institution, where brushes, brooms, whisks, mats, carpets, caned chairs, bead work, knitting, sewing and general fancy work are made by the pupils and graduated workmen, is very successfully managed, and during the past year stock to the amount of $16,865 41 was made up. The report shows a very gratifying state of affairs and reflects great credit on those immediately connected with the management of this noble institution, of which Pennsylvania should feel justly proud.

☞Gail Hamilton more than hints that pretty girls are not really neat and cleanly; while the chances are that homely ones possess that respectable virtue to a refreshing extent. She cites as proof the miscellaneous if not worse condition of their sleeping apartments, Of course Gail knows what she is talking about. We circulate these hints for the benefit of young men who may be in the way of looking up partners for a life excursion. The method of testing the matter, as will be seen, is quite difficult. Beauty and dirt—we don't like the association, but the fact would be much worse.

WEATHER GUIDE.—The following curious and perpetual weather table was constructed by the celebrated Dr. Herschell, upon a philosophic consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon. It is said to be very generally correct, and will be read with interest "about these days:"

If the moon changes at 12 o'clock, noon, the weather immediately afterwards will be very rainy if in summer, and there will be snow and rain in winter.

If between 2 and 4 o'clock P. M., changeable in summer; fair and mild in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock P. M. fair in both summer and winter.

Between 6 and 10 o'clock P. M., in summer fair, if the wind is northwest; rainy if south or southwest. In winter fair and frosty, if the wind is north or northwest; rainy if south or southwest.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock P. M., fair in summer and fair and frosty in winter.

Between 12 and 2 o'clock A. M., fair in summer and frosty in winter, unless the wind is from the south or southwest.

Between 2 and 4 o'clock, A. M., cold and showery in the summer, and snow and storm in the winter.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock A. M., rainy both in winter and summer.

Between 6 and 8 o'clock A. M., wind and rain in the summer and stormy in the winter.

Between 8 and 10 o'clock A. M., changeable in summer; rain with a westerly, and snow with an easterly wind in winter.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock A. M., showery in summer, and windy in the winter.

WANTED THE SITUATION.—Once upon a time an unsophisticated, innocent young woman, one of a large family of maidens in indigent circumstances, resolved to make an effort for personal independence by undertaking some honest vocation. With this view she carefully searched the newspapers, and decided to respond to an advertisement for a wet nurse. On going to the house of the advertiser she was confronted by the family physician, who had been strictly enjoined to inquire into the physical condition of applicants for the office, in order to secure one of unqualified excellence. The following scene ensued:

Young woman (eagerly)—"I have come to get the situation, if it isn't too late?"

Physician (scanning the maiddenly figure before him)—"But madam, you do not appear to be very robust."

Young woman (confidently)—"Oh, sir, my health is very good. I haven't been sick since I was a baby."

Physician—"Yes, madam; but is your baby in good health?"

Young woman (blushingly)—"I haven't any baby, sir."

Physician (energetically)—"Why, are you not married?"

Young woman (timidly)—"No sir, not yet."

Physician (comprehending the situation)—"Well, my dear young woman, I don't think you will do for a wet nurse."

Young woman—"Perhaps not at first sir; but I am perfectly willing to learn."

AN ICE CAVE.—Nearly all the ice used on Pacific coasts is obtained from a never failing ice cave in the Northern part of Oregon. This remarkable subterranean cavern, where the ice remains in a perfect state the year round, is situated on a stream known as the White Salmon, which empties into the Columbia river, on the Washington Territory side, about thirty miles below the Dalles. The entrance to this ice chamber is near the base of Mount Adams, which stands twenty miles from the Columbia, and whose melting snow constitutes the waters of the White Salmon. The dimensions of this cave are vast, extending many miles under the snowy mountain, and the scenery is supremely grand. The ice is found in columns formed by water falling from above and congeals as it falls. These columns are cut out in blocks and conveyed on pack animals to the Columbia river, and from thence are shipped to all the markets on the coast.

ASTONISHED RED MEN.—A mountain exchange tells us of a band of Indians who made a sudden attack on a detachment of soldiers in the mountains. The soldiers had a mountain howitzer mounted on a mule. Not having time to take it off and put it in position, they backed up the mule and let drive at the Indians. The load was so heavy that the mule and all went down the hill towards the savages, who not understanding that kind of warfare, fled like deer. Afterwards one of them was captured, and when asked why he ran so, replied:—"Me big Injin, not afraid of little guns, but when white man load up and fire a whole jackass at Injin me don't know what to do."

☞Douglass Jerrold felicitously said that the earth laughs with harvest when it is tickled with the hoe. The following is the most practical and Sambonian method of illustrating the same idea:

"I say, Sambo, does you know what makes the corn grow so fast when you put manure on it?"

"No I don't hardly."

"No, I'll just tell ye: When de corn begins to smell de manure, it don't like de fumery, so it hurries out of de ground, and sits up as high as possible, so as not to breathe de bad air."

OUR CANDIDATES:

FOR PRESIDENT,

U. S. GRANT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

A. G. CURTIN.

☞We could fill our columns weekly with murders, suicides and rapes. They increase daily.

☞President Johnson is going to bring John Bull square up on the "Alabama claims" question.

☞A Free Railroad Bill has been reported and will become a law this winter, if it does not stick in the Senate.

THE DIFFICULTY IN A NUTSHELL.—The anti-War Democracy will never support an honest War Democrat for President—such being the case, the War Democracy will not support an anti-War Democrat.

☞Famine is impending in Europe. A general war, which is now likely to burst out at any time in the Old World, will produce more misery among the masses than any armed conflict ever was known to inflict.

☞It is again rumored at Washington that there will soon be Cabinet changes. It is thought that General Banks will be appointed Secretary of War to get rid of Stanton. The Senate could hardly refuse to confirm General Banks.

"Support your party organ."—Journal & American.

The Republican County Committee of this county, in county meeting assembled, acting for the party as its competent representatives, nominated U. S. Grant for President, and Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President. That's a solid team to kick against, yet the Journal & American refuses to recognize the nomination of Curtin by its party by refusing to raise his name to its mast head with Grant.

☞Can Andrew G. Curtin be nominated for Vice President? This is a question we hear asked frequently. Certainly he can. As goes the Keystone so goes the Union—and where is there a man in the State as popular with the people as Andrew G. Curtin, the "Soldiers' Friend."

☞The Gettysburg Asylum and Washington Library lotteries turn out to be grand swindles. To be safe from being taken in, repudiate all gift enterprises and lotteries. The publishers of papers who assist in swindling the public by publishing lottery advertisements, are very little if any better than the principals.

☞Col. James Worrell, Fish Commissioner of Pennsylvania, brought suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad and Canal Company for failing to comply with the provisions of the Fish law. The case has been heard at the Harrisburg court, but it is thought the questions involved will be determined by the higher courts.

TRYING TO KILL HIM OFF.—The notorious fanatic Wendell Phillips, publishes a letter which has been copied by all the Radical papers, without comment, charging Gen. Grant with being drunk in the streets of Washington. If it is possible for the crazy fanatics to destroy Grant as a candidate for the Presidency, by slandering him, they will not stop short of charging him with murder.

REFORM.—There are efforts making by some Congressmen and by some of the members of the State Legislature, to reduce expenses. Time will tell whether the "Reformers" are really honest and in earnest. Millions of dollars have been squandered at Washington, and thousands have been squandered at Harrisburg, every year, particularly last winter. Both houses at Harrisburg can save fifty or a hundred thousand this winter—but if they do they will have to go to work immediately.

☞The next campaign will be heavy. A President and Vice President to elect. An Auditor General and a Surveyor General to elect. A member of Congress, Legislators, Sheriff, County Commissioner, Director, of the Poor, and other smaller county officers. While we propose there shall be life in the county during the campaign, we promise to conduct it with decency towards all, friends and foes.

The Globe will be furnished at $2 per year, or $1 for six months, in advance.

WHAT IS CONGRESS DOING?—The past week has been principally devoted to speech making on the Reconstruction and Finance questions. The speeches are intended for campaign purposes and are being printed by the fifty thousands for circulation. Senator Doolittle's speech is considered the strongest in opposition to Radicalism. Mr. Morton's is an answer, and is put forward as the most able defence of Radicalism. There are some promising indications of reform in expenditures—a necessity—and we hope the country will soon feel easier.

The Independence of the Press.

[From the New York Times.]

We have seldom seen the real function of journalism more clearly stated than it is in the following paragraph from the interesting "Recollections of a Busy Life," which Mr. Greeley is contributing to the columns of the Ledger. Speaking of the views and purposes with which he started the Tribune, Mr. Greeley says:

"Party spirit is so fierce and intolerant in this country that the editor of a non-partisan sheet is restrained from saying what he thinks and feels on the most vital, imminent topics; while on the other hand, a Democratic, Whig, or Republican journal is generally expected to praise or blame, like or dislike, eulogize or condemn, in precise accordance with the views and interests of its party. I believed there was a happy medium between these extremes—a position from which a journalist might openly and heartily advocate the principles and commend the measures of that party to which his convictions allied him, yet dissent frankly from its course on a particular question, and even denounce its candidates, if they were shown to be deficient in capacity or (far worse) in integrity. I felt that a journal loyal to its guiding convictions, yet ready to expose and condemn unworthy conduct or incidental error on the part of men attached to its party, must be far more effective, even party-wise than though it might always be counted on to applaud or reprobate, bless or curse, as the party's prejudices or immediate interest might seem to prescribe."

Public opinion in this country is freeing itself more and more from the slavish subserviency to party interest and party passion, which are in general quite as fierce and intolerant as Mr. Greeley describes them; and the Press only keeps pace with public opinion, as its organ and representative, in asserting for itself a corresponding freedom. As the Press improves in ability, as it becomes more and more a recognized profession, and enlists in its service more and more men of learning, of intellect and character, it will be more and more distinctly recognized as being no longer the servant of parties or the mere echo of men in office—but as having a position with rights and duties of its own, quite as important and quite as responsible as those of political parties and public men. And when it can support or condemn principles and measures on their merits, and praise or censure men for what they do, it will not only vindicate its own character and independence, but wield a power which none need fear but those who are justly obnoxious to its assaults.

FRED. DOUGLASS.—A correspondent of the Springfield Republican, writing from Akron, Ohio, January 26, says:—

"Fred. Douglass delivered an address to the colored people of this place, to-day, in which he gave them some rather unthankful and practical advice. He said they had no more reason to feel thankful to the Government for their freedom than had the Hebrews to feel thankful to Pharaoh for their deliverance from bondage.—The Government was driven to emancipate the negroes, and did it as a matter of policy, and not from any Christian motive of right and justice. That although it was possible that, naturally they were equal to the whites, they were not practically. They must rise through their own exertions to a much higher degree of intelligence before being allowed all the rights and privileges of the white race. He did not blame them for being in the condition in which they now were, as it was caused by the degrading influence of slavery. He should, however, censure them bitterly if they suffered themselves to remain so without striving hard for improvement. That if fifteen years hence found them where they now were, their destiny was sealed, as they were now on probation, and if they failed in that time to nobody acquit themselves, it would be almost impossible for them to make any advancement."

GEN. GRANT.—The New York Evening Post says:—The Anti-Slavery Standard, the Independent and the Revolution come out this week simultaneously with the insinuation that Gen. Grant has been seen drunk in Washington. The Revolution gives it as "the talk;" the Independent insinuates that "occasionally" a Presidential candidate is seen drunk in the streets;" and the Anti-Slavery Standard says it has "rumors" to the same effect. This is a pretty old story of Grant's drunkenness. According to the old women of both sexes, who have always pursued him, he was drunk at Fort Donelson, drunk at Shiloh, drunk at Vicksburg, drunk at Lookout Mountain, drunk in the Wilderness, drunk before Richmond; on all occasions, in fact, when he beat the enemy and served or saved the Union. Is is not almost time to stop this stale slander? or, at least, to cease to circulate it by insinuation?—Those old tabbies who receive "rumors," and retail "the talk" and try to guess and hint away the characters of brave and honest men, remind us of a person of similar habits, who, being reproached for a gross slander, whined out, "I did not assert it was so." "No sir," was the indignant and effective reply, "you did worse; you insinuated it."

ANDY CURTIN.—The Tazewell (Ohio) Republican, says:

"With Gov. Curtin on the ticket we could sweep Pennsylvania, the only doubtful Northern State. He would roll back the broken column of democracy as he did the rebel wave in the dark days of the war. He would marshall the host of Freedom as he did the immortal fifteen thousand reserves, and as they saved the battles of the Nation on the field, so would he rescue his and their State from the dangers of democracy.

His nomination would inspire confidence in the people of the whole Union, for there is no name in the eventful history of the last six years around which clusters truer glory and more nobly earned laurels than his."

More muddled than ever, the political "situation." Johnson is playing a heavy hand to defeat the Vallandighamites, and the Phillips-Greelyites are playing a disgraceful game to defeat Grant.

The Leaks at the Capital.

The Harrisburg correspondent of the Reading "Times" thus continues his observations on "Leaks at the Capital:"

In my yesterday's letter I referred to the subject of "Retrenchment and Reform," which is beginning to attract some attention here. I also stated, in a former letter, that a resolution was adopted directing the Clerk to inform the House as to the number of "officers" now employed, which resolution was offered by Mr. Mullin, (Dem.,) of Phila., and adopted by the Democrats with aid of a sufficient number of Republicans to constitute a majority. When the Clerk came to make up the list, it was evident that it would be pronounced simply outrageous by ninety-nine hundredths of the tax payers of the State. I did all in my power to ascertain in advance of the Clerk's statement, how many there are, but could only succeed in getting the number employed as "pastors and folders," and this figure is truly startling, there being now no less than thirty-eight able bodied men on the list, who, at last year's rate of compensation (about $800 average,) will amount to over thirty thousand dollars, for doing the work of folding, wrapping and putting up about 4,000 copies of public documents daily. I know that responsible parties would be glad to do all this work by contract for $3,000, and yet $30,000 is taken from the Treasury for this petty item alone. Last year the sum required to pay these pasters and folders was $20,000, (see Auditor General's Report, page 112.

The amount paid the officers of the Senate, last session, including passes, was $32,671. Although, in 1860, the Capitol extension was put up and everything in and about the Senate Chamber newly furnished, painted and repaired, we find that last year there was paid, for furniture, material and labor furnished Senate Chamber, the sum of $2,040 75.

George Bergner's stationery bill, for the Senate, amounts to $3,522 17, being at the rate of $1,000 over a dollar a day for each Senator, although the law allows each member $25 for stationery during the session.

But the House account is the interesting one. Sixty-four thousand, three hundred and ninety-six dollars and eighty cents, (64,396,80,) were paid to the officers of the House, during the session of 1867. The postage bill amounted to $16,463,40. The contingent expenses of the House, including $4,293 paid to George Bergner for stationery, Purdon's Digest, &c., amounts to $23,680,60.

Mr. Bergner appears to be particularly favored. According to the Report of the Auditor General, his honest share of public patronage, for stationery, printing Record, "on account," (it is noteworthy that nearly all his big figures are "on account,") amounts to the very snug sum of $25,245 67.—This does not include stationery furnished the Executive Departments.

The public buildings and grounds are also an item of very great financial importance, and no less than $39,281 85 are "put through" just to keep them—from running away—or in order.

I am informed that a resolution is to be offered to have the folding and wrapping done by contract, and that the same shall not cost more than eight thousand dollars, which would be a saving of twenty-two thousand dollars, as it now costs the State at the rate of thirty thousand dollars for the session, in the House alone. Such a resolution, if offered, will compel professing reformers on both sides of the House to show their hands.

Political Items.

—The Democratic County Convention of Blair, on the 20th, instructed delegates to State Convention, to vote for General Hancock for President.

—The annual meeting of the "Grand Army of the Republic" for the State of Indiana, met on the 29th, and adopted a resolution endorsing Gen. Grant for President.

—The election in Florida takes place to-day, for the adoption or rejection of the Constitution. The Republicans expect to carry the State for the Constitution.

—Nearly one half the Republican delegation from Tennessee to the Chicago convention of May 20 are colored men. This is a practical exemplification of faith in the doctrines they preach on the part of the Union men of that State.

—An election took place in the Eighth Congressional District in Ohio last week. The Republican candidate was elected, gaining seven hundred votes since last fall's election. This reaction is brought about by the efforts of the radical Democrats forcing such men as Pendleton forward as the Democratic candidate for President.

—From information received here it appears that there is a bitter quarrel going on quietly among the Democrats in Ohio, growing out of the opposition to Vallandigham, which was manifested in the recent contest for United States Senator in that State. Vallandigham, it is alleged, is making war within the party upon all who opposed him, and he not only refused to stump the Eighth District recently in favor of the Democratic nominee for Congress, Col. Burns, who had refused to support Vallandigham, but he did all he could to defeat Burns.

It is stated that Judge Jeremiah S. Black is engaged in preparing a legal paper to be presented to the Supreme Court in a few days, asking an injunction upon Gen. Geo. G. Meade, to deter him from illegally appropriating funds of the railroads of the State of Georgia. Gen. Meade, it is expected, will defend his course upon the ground that the acts of Congress authorize him to make such uses of the State property as he may see fit. This will bring the test of the constitutionality of the present system of government in the unrepresented States, and will determine many other similar instances of irregularities incident to the military administration in the South.

Items of General Interest.

A Naples special of January 29th, via London, of the same date, says:—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius, which has continued with greater or less intensity since its occurrence in the past year, has culminated, if I may so term it, in an unusual and very fatal catastrophe. Yesterday evening the side of Mount Vesuvius lying right opposits to the gate of Castello Neonks, one of the fortifications of this city, situated between the Royal Palace and the sea, fell, tumbling outward, detaching portions of several houses, built in the vicinity, and overwhelming carriages and other conveyances passing on the highway at the moment. The scene is melancholy and full of ruin. The road running in the neighborhood of the volcano is filled with rocks and earth, which had just formed a part of the mountain. This extraordinary event has also been attended with consideration loss of life, but the number killed has not been ascertained.

Jeff. Davis recently wrote a letter to some of his Mississippi friends, in which he used the following language:

"Your sufferings and losses have been to me ever present through all the trials to which you so feelingly refer. The desolation which everywhere presents itself in that once prosperous country fills every heart with sorrow; but I hope and trust a better time will soon come to us. The patient fortitude, the cheerful energy, and manly virtue, which our people display in the depth of their misfortune, cannot fail to bring the due reward." If there had been no rebellion there would not now be suffering and losses.

A farmer of Schaghticoke, N Y. was asked for a "lift" in his wagon, as he was going home the other evening, by a portly and strapping female. He allowed her to get into his vehicle, but his suspicions became excited, and dropping his whip, he requested her to get out and pick it up. When she did so he drove off rapidly, and on reaching home examined a muff which the presumed female had left in the wagon, finding in it a revolver and a dirk knife.

The New York Tribune says:—"It is said that Governor Geary withholds the Pennsylvania appropriation from the Antietam Cemetery, because the Maryland authorities have made provision for burying the rebel dead therein. If we are ready to pardon the rebels who have laid down their arms, can we not forget resentment towards those who have given up their lives?"

Horace Greeley spoke on the 27th, at the meeting of the Congressional Temperance Society, and in the course of his remarks he said that "more men lost their lives during the war on account of having drunken officers in command than were lost by rebel bullets"—a very doubtful statement; and yet it cannot be denied, that very many perished on that account.

A negro man and woman at Orange Court House, Virginia, refuse to be free, thinking it robbery that their masters should be deprived of their property without pay.

A very destructive fire occurred in Chicago a week ago. A number of large mercantile houses with contents were destroyed—loss over 2,000,000—insured about $1,000,000.

Canada has about 34,000 active militia.

To Our Friends.

We propose to make considerable improvement in the appearance of the GLOBE early in the spring, if our friends will do their part by giving us the necessary encouragement. All arrearages can be paid up—and every good subscriber and friend can procure for the GLOBE an additional advance paying subscriber, which would give us support sufficient to enable us to give our patrons a much better paper than we can afford to give now. All our patrons would be gainers by merely using their influence to secure for us the necessary additional help. We cannot complain of the support we now receive from a generous public, but if it was more liberal we could give a better paper for the same money each subscriber now pays. Will our friends and patrons go to work immediately, that we may be able to make arrangements for the improvement at an early day.

Brief Items.

—The religious revival in the Methodist Church of this place has closed.

—There are thirty ladies and one hundred and six gentlemen employed as telegraph operators on the line of the Pennsylvania Central railroad.

—Hard times: the young ladies down east complain that the gentlemen are so poor that they can't pay their address.

—Rev. E. W. Kirby, pastor of the M. E. Church of Mifflintown, has become Associate Editor and Proprietor of the Methodist Home Journal, a religious paper published in Philadelphia.

—There is a monster beef in Johnstown which weighs 2,600 pounds, measures nine feet six inches in length, and nine feet four inches in girth, and stands nineteen hands high.

—There is a cow in possession of Mr. George Settlemoyer, of Summerhill township, Cambria county, which has produced three calves within a year.

—The Methodist Sunday School of this place has attained such proportions that it has to be held in the body of the church instead of in the basement as heretofore.

—To many who looked at the heavens on Thursday night last, it appeared that the two evening stars were very close to each other, and yet they were millions of miles apart.

—There is some talk of the Burgess and Town Council of a neighboring town passing an ordinance punishing drunkards, rioters, &c., with wood-sawing, shoveling snow, &c., according to the season.

—A lodge of Good Templars has been organized at Alexandria, this county. The lodge promises to be a success, and from what we can understand the members have a good field to operate in.

—The boiler of an engine of a steam saw-mill, some two miles west of Ligonier, exploded recently, making a perfect wreck of the building. All hands were at supper, and thus escaped the explosion.

—Sunday last was Candlemas day, or feast in honor of the purification of the Virgin Mary. Popularly it is now known as ground hog day. The day was cloudy, and as the weather wise say, he didn't see his shadow, and therefore we will have but a short winter.

—By a recent decision of Court of Claims, the members of the following Pennsylvania regiments are entitled to $100 bounty: 26th, 27th, 28th, 20th and 71st; also, all persons who enlisted between April 15th and July 22d, 1861, and were discharged upon surgeons' certificates of disability and received no bounty.

—A lady by the name of Peterman, of Milton, was married on the 19th ult., and while the preacher was engaged in the exercises of the marriage ceremony, and as she gave her assent to the question "Will you take this man to be your lawful and wedded husband," &c., she instantly became blind.

—If the Connecticut "Blue laws" were in force at this day—one of which compelled the person seen to "spit in church to stand with his tongue in a split stick"—there are sundry young men who frequent the churches of our borough, who would be continually enduring the infliction of its penalty.

—The various reports presented to the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge of the United States, show that the order in 1867 embraced 2860 lodges, with 214,561 members, and that during the year there were 35,021 members initiated and 2164 members died. The receipts for the year were $1,020,111, and of this $692,629 were paid for charitable purposes, there having been 2026 brethren and 3141 widowed families relieved by the lodges, and 2025 members and 130 widowed families relieved by the encampments, which number 697, and have 34,842 members, all of whom however are also members of the lodges.

—The revenue officers of our State are being instructed from Washington to appoint special officers to examine the county offices as to whether deeds, mortgages, and other official papers have been properly stamped. The penalty for omitting to stamp, or for not stamping properly, is $50 for each deed. In Bucks county the examiner, in going over the first six dockets out of twenty, found about one hundred deeds which had either been improperly stamped or the stamps entirely omitted, making an aggregate of five thousand dollars in penalties.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Run Off.—Sled Upset near a Bridge.—Mr. George Bucher Killed.

We have just learned the particulars of a terrible accident which occurred yesterday (Monday) morning, at the bridge across the little Juniata, about one mile south-west of Petersburg.—The stage which runs from Williamsburg to Petersburg, had just left Alexandria with the following passengers, beside the driver, whose name we did not learn: Mr. George Bucher and Captain Lewis Neff, of Alexandria, and Mr. Robert S. Westbrook, of this place. When about half a mile from the bridge, the horses took fright and commenced running at a rapid speed. At the bridge is a curve in the road, which was covered with ice, and as the horses ran into the bridge, the sled turned suddenly, breaking the runner, and throwing the passengers out.—Mr. Bucher was thrown out headlong and fell a distance of about thirty feet upon the ice along the banks of the river, breaking both his wrists and cutting open his skull. Upon reaching the ice he slid into the water, and had floated some distance before he could be taken out. Mr. Westbrook was thrown upon an abutment and knocked insensible. He received a severe but not dangerous cut in his right cheek. Mr. Neff was thrown but a short distance down the bank, and received some slight bruises. The driver jumped out upon the opposite side of the sled as it began to turn and escaped injury.

The accident was one that could not be avoided, owing to the ice on which the sled turned, and the fact that the lines broke. All thought that if the sled could have gone into the covered bridge in safety, the horses would have checked their speed; but unfortunately such was not the case.

Mr. George Bucher was a partner in the planing mill of T. Burchinell & Co., of this place. His family lives in Alexandria, and he was just returning from a visit to them when the accident happened. He is a brother-in-law of John Scott, Esq., and is well and favorably known by many citizens of the county. His shocking death has cast a gloom over the hearts of his many personal friends and the community, and he leaves a large family to mourn his sudden loss.

A Chapter of Accidents.

Joseph Williams, son of Mr. Benjamin Williams, of this place, broke his leg while coasting down the hill on his sled near the Academy, one day last week. He was going at a rapid rate, when his sled turned from the course and he broke his leg against a lamp post. Coasting is certainly pleasure for the boys, but it is attended with a great deal of danger where there are so many obstacles. If the boys will have their sled-rides, we would advise them to try some of the hills outside of town.

ANOTHER.—Mr. John Wherley, saloon keeper on Railroad street, while attempting to light the gas in his oyster sign above the door, fell out of the window, a distance of about fifteen feet, and received a severe but not dangerous gash under his chin. The lamp is a good arm's length from the second story window, and it is thought that he reached out too far and lost his balance. He was picked up insensible, and medical attendance immediately summoned

ANOTHER.—A young man while on a visit to Alloona, got into a difficulty with a colored boy, who took a hatchet and struck him on the leg, breaking it near the thigh. He was brought to this place, and his wounds were properly dressed.

The Confidence Game.

Notwithstanding the numerous notices of the press to beware of confidence men and their schemes, we have another example to publish, which we hope will prove a sufficient warning.—One day last week three men came to McConnellstown, and in a short time came upon a German citizen, whose name we have not learned. They asked him to loan them $300, at the same time leaving a box in his possession in which they said were valuables in full for the amount, which they would leave as security. The unsuspecting German consented to their request, and as the party left, they said they were going to Huntingdon, where they had a store, and they would return the money the next day. The next day came but no money was received, and the German was reminded that he was "sold," when upon coming to this place, and learning that no such party were here. Upon opening the precious box, he found it contained nothing but a lot of bogus jewelry.

Unpatented Lands.

The late Annual Report of the Surveyor General contains a statement of the number of tracts, and also of the number of acres, of unpatented lands in Pennsylvania. To show land owners the importance of obtaining Patents at as early a date as possible, we quote the following:

"In calculating the amounts due on the above tracts, interest has been calculated to June 1, 1868, and all accounts not settled by that time, will be entered up as liens."

Milton S. Lytle, Attorney at Law, office with Stewart & Lytle, in this place, will obtain information for all who may desire it as to whether their lands are patented or not, and will ascertain the amount due the Commonwealth on each unpatented tract, and, on compliance with the requirements of the Land Office by the applicants, will procure Patents.

New Post Masters Appointed.

We hear that the following changes have lately been made:

Dudley, Wm Brown vice David Blair removed.

Coalmont, Samuel Books vice J. S. Bonkstressor removed.

Spruce Creek, E. B. Isett vice N. Lytle removed.

Mt. Union, Thomas Adams vice D. Appleby removed.

Mapleton, Wm. P. McLaughlin vice A. H. Bauman, removed.

Water Street, S. S. Wareham vice W. C. Davis removed.

McAlavy's Fort, Jon. J. Miller vice ——— removed.

The Democracy have got the ear of the Post Master General. Upon the principle that "everything is honest in politics," some of our good friends must go under.

A Serious Accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Four Cars Thrown Down an Embankment---Three of Them Consumed.

A serious accident occurred about 2 o'clock on Friday morning last about a mile below Mill Creek on the Pennsylvania Railroad, owing to the breaking of a rail. The fast line east had reached the place when, owing to the cause above stated, the four last cars were thrown from the track—two of them were sleeping cars, one destined for New York via Allentown, and one was destined for Philadelphia.

Immediately upon leaving the track they were thrown down an embankment and caught fire. Both of the sleeping cars and one of the ordinary passenger cars were consumed. The loss of life was confined to one woman, who appears to be killed by the accident and afterwards partly burned.—One other was injured, but it is believed not dangerously, and several men were slightly burned. The train consisted of eight cars, and they contained but sixty seven passengers, which may partially account for the small loss of life.

The locomotive and first four cars remained upon the track, and after the accident resumed their way East with the passengers. The remains of the dead were carefully coffined, and the injuries of the wounded attended to at Mifflin, and by Dr. Millor of Huntingdon, who was immediately despatched to the scene of the disaster by Superintendent Black.

There is reason to believe that the train broke the rail in passing over it. It was moving at ordinary speed, having received special instructions at a station which it passed six miles before, not to make up any time. It was about thirty minutes late, and was in charge of Conductor Chase.

The sudden change in the weather, and the intensity of cold, made the iron brittle, and no amount of care could prevent the breaking of the rail. To guard against this the whole road is divided into sections, and patrolled by watchmen both day and night.

The remainder of the train, with the balance of the passengers, arrived at Harrisburg at 10 o'clock next morning. The name of the only person killed was Mrs. Anna Duggen, late of No. 167 Pennsylvania avenue, Pittsburgh.

The husband of this woman and her brother, together with Patrick Hughes and party, were on their way to California. The husband had his hands and face slightly burned. The rest of the party escaped.

The following were injured, but Dr. Rutherford, of Harrisburg, reports none of their injuries dangerous, being principally painful bruises, with no bones broken. Some of them designed resuming their journey immediately:—Mrs. Geo. Adams, of Philadelphia; J. Manson, of Indianapolis; Mrs. Mary Crouse, of Kansas; W. Wickel, of N. Y.; Herbert Nonson, Jr., of Phila.; W. W. Panell, of New Jersey; L. Chase, of Michigan; Mrs. General Rodman and daughter, of Illinois; and J. Busser, of Lancaster.

The first rail which broke was broken in half and the next one into five pieces, showing that the track had been in perfect condition on the passage of the locomotive and first four cars over it. As an innovation deserving the utmost praise, the railroad authorities furnished every aid to the press agent to obtain full particulars of the accident immediately after its occurrence, thereby preventing exaggerated accounts from obtaining publicity.

The Pittsburgh Commercial give the following additional particulars:

We are indebted to Mr. J. H. Doorr, Conductor of the Silver Palace car No. 71, for the following account of the wreck:

The train was stopped within one hundred and fifty yards of the broken rail, showing that the engineer was running at a slow rate of speed at the time of the accident. The car in charge of Mr. Doerr was the only Palace car attached to the train. The other two sleeping cars were No. 30, in charge of Conductor Mathiows, and No. 22, Conductor Kennedy. No. 71 was badly wrecked before it left the track entirely, and the roof was off when it turned over its side and slid down the embankment. It was crushed to pieces in the descent, caught fire and was destroyed. No. 30 went down the embankment end foremost, fell over on one side and went entirely to pieces, resembling (in the language of Mr. Doerr) "a huge pile of oven wood." It was many rods from the other cars and did not take fire. No. 22 lay diagonally across the track, and took fire from the two passenger cars which went over the bank. When conductor Doerr got out of his car in less than five minutes after the casualty, he found that the two passenger cars were then in flames, and the fire was running up toward 22, striking it about the centre. In half an hour the four cars were a heap of ashes.

A Gay Sledding Party.

Various parties have availed themselves of the opportunity presented to enjoy themselves a sleigh-ride. One party in particular we will mention.—On Friday evening last, seven young men thought they would immortalize themselves by going in a sled to a neighboring village "single-handed,"—i. e., without any ladies. The night was clear and cold, and the moon shone brightly, not even a leaf stirred, and the stillness of the forest through which they passed was only disturbed by the snatches of songs that broke out in quick succession from the throats of the "gay and happy" bachelors. After a great deal of practice they managed to learn two stanzas of the familiar love-song commencing and while driving through the village they sang it with such feeling as might arouse the sympathies of a Venus in their behalf. We don't think the party were received with any marked honors in the village, but we do think they will be marked by the many single ladies in our town for their very gallant spirit. To the credit of the "immortal seven," be it said that they enjoyed themselves hugely, and not a drop of "spirits" were touched throughout the trip.

"Hast thou no feeling,"

Speer's Pure Grape Wine.

For persons of sickly and debilitated constitutions, it is especially recommended as a valuable tonic and invigorator. As a dinner wine it is pleasant and agreeable, and its exhilarating effects considerably assist digestion. For general family use, it cannot be excelled by the finest imported Port for taste, flavor, or juicy richness, while it is devoid of the deleterious and intoxicating qualities, which uniformly characterize foreign wines.—Independent. Our druggists have it.

Obituary.

At a meeting of Smithsonian Lodge, No. 88, I. O. of G. T., held in Mooresville, Saturday evening, January 18th, 1868, a committee consisting of three members was appointed to draft resolutions reflecting the sentiments of the Lodge in reference to the demise of Brother John Thompson. Committee submit as follows:

WHEREAS, In the dispensation of Divine Providence our Brother JOHN THOMPSON, Esq., has been removed from the scene of his earthly labors and associations, and

WHEREAS, Our community has been bereft of an honest upright citizen and we of a venerated and much loved Brother, whose loss we deeply lament, Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Temperance cause has lost in the death of our worthy Brother, an earnest and unflinching advocate, who deeply appreciating the great and growing evils of intemperance gave his voice and influence unreservedly in favor of the right.

Resolved, That we tender the bereaved family and friends of the deceased, our heartfelt sympathies in their affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be furnished our County papers, for publication.

No more Bald Heads!

No more Gray Locks!

DR. LEON'S

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and specially restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of fanatics, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your father, husband, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. ENERGETIC MEN AND LADIES WANTED to Canvass for the

ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

BY PROF. CALVIN E. STOWE, D. D.

Showing what the Bible is not; what it is, and how to use it; tracing the history of each book up to its origin with the inspired authors, and completely answering all infidel cavils and objections to the Scriptures. It is an ordinary library of Biblical History in a single volume, brief, clear, accurate, conclusive and highly interesting. A master-piece of common sense. It is needed in every family where the Bible is read, as well as by every Sabbath School teacher, student and clergyman, and being the only book on the subject ever published or sold in this country, agents can easily see the advantage of canvasing for this work. Send for circulars containing notices and indorsements from leading ministers of all denominations. Address

ZIEGLER, McCURDY & CO.,

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY

BY

DR. WILLIAM BREWSTER,

M'CONNELLSTOWN, PA.

For the benefit of those proposing to undertake Electrical treatment for diseases we give in the following list a few of the more prominent and most common complaints met with in our practice, in all of which we are most successful. IN NEARLY ALL CASES OF CHRONIC DISEASE, ELECTRICITY IS A SURE REMEDY, AND IN ALL CASES BENEFICIAL, IF PROPERLY APPLIED. Those, therefore, afflicted with complaints not here enumerated, need have no hesitation in applying, and whether only relief, or a PERMANENT CURE can be effected, they will receive replies accordingly. All communications free.

1 Epilepsy, Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Nervousness, Palpitation of the Heart, Lock-Jaw, etc.
2 Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Obstinate Constipation, Hemorrhoids, or Piles, Bilious, Flatulent, and Painter's Colic, and all affections of the Liver and Spleen.
3 Catarrh, Cough, Influenza, Asthma, (when not caused by organic disease of the heart) Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Rheumatism of the Chest, Consumption in the early stages.
4 Gravel, Diabetis, and Kidney Complaints.
5 Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Stiff Neck, Spinal Diseases, Hip Diseases, Cancers, Tumors; (these last named always cured without pain, or cutting, or plasters in any form)

In a word, we propose to cure all curable diseases.

We have no connection whatever with any other Electrical office in this or any other county.

A PERFECT TIME-PIECE FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Let every Housekeeper, Farmer, Mechanic, and Traveler buy our

SOLAR WATCH,

or Perpetual Portable Sun-Dial.

Warranted to Keep True Time for every Day of the Year

This valuable instrument, which is warranted by us to give the true time of day throughout the year, is constructed on strictly scientific principles, being based on astronomical tables and calculations, and affording the truest measure of time which human ingenuity and skill can devise exceeding in accuracy and reliability the most perfect chronometers, whilst the low price at which we offer it to the public places it within the reach of all. Its portability makes it convenient for travelers, and to every farmer or householder it must prove invaluable to regulate their clocks and watches by the most infallible test recognized by science.

The mode of using the "Solar Watch" is the simplest that can be devised. After screwing the Style or Gnomon in its place in the moveable brass head and setting it directly over the straight line corresponding to the date, or that nearest to it on the cylinder, the instrument is placed upright in the sunshine in such a position as will throw the shadow of the Style directly upon the line under it. After placing the plumb-line, by means of its brass attachment, at a right angle with and to the left of the Style, in order to set the cylinder perfectly level, the point where the extremity of the shadow falls, and its distance from any of the many cross lines exhibiting the morning and corresponding afternoon hours, will indicate the true time of day.

The whole apparatus, consisting of a Cylinder and Diagram, moveable Brass Head, Style, Plumb line, and Brass attachment for the same, neatly put up in compact boxes, is sold by us at the incredibly low price of ONE DOLLAR.

PROF. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness; Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that it cure, free of charge, all those complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an achear pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nervo vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McIntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.
